Lead Story

The Leader Leaps

Under the dynamic leadership and able administration of an eminent educationist Sh. Suresh Bhardwaj ji, SPS International is an innovative and unique effort to set up an educational paradigm to meet the aspirations of students and offer teachers a rich and commensurate transactional environment.

The school is located in a lush green 5.5 acres campus with congenial environment, conducive for learning. Moreover, it has a speedily developing state of art world class educational facilities and infrastructure.

The guiding principles of SPSI are provision for total and meaningful education and thus prepare our young ones to face the modern day challenges of the competitive world.

Providing them with the highest aspiration in learning, the school works tirelessly towards inculcating values that would help them meet challenges in their present and future lives. Nurturing the ideals of self awareness and self respect, SPSI helps the students acquire a reasoned set of values and beliefs which make them own a capacity to live lives as independent, self motivated adults with the will power to contribute for the welfare of others and the society.

Shakespeare has aptly said, “The world is a stage and all the men and women are merely players.” We teach our students to combat the difficulties of life and be a good human being. We do not believe in a ‘picture kind of life’ – we believe in ‘reality.’ We teach them to make goals and reach the zenith.

We teach them to fly high to the sky and pluck the stars. We sharpen their skills and transform them into diamonds! We prove that we are different and will always remain to be different!

From Principal's Desk

We humans are blessed with intelligence to learn from experience to use for future. Education probably has the best answers to the problems of human societies.

Good education should be a blend of good language and mathematical skills at the base, moral education for social cohesiveness, sports and games for healthy physique and science to promote inquiry. We need good study and activity material to support this cause.

I am aware of the fact that twenty first century belongs to knowledge superpowers. India is poised head towards a role where world will look upon it as a pioneer in exchange and dissemination of knowledge. I seek your blessings, cooperation, collaboration and good wishes to make this dream a grand success.

Best wishes

Chit Chat With Chairman

Q. How is SPSI different?

Chairman: Every school is different because of its vision, mission and core values. Our child is trained mentally, physically and emotionally to battle royally the loopholes of life. This is handled beautifully in SPSI's lap and this is what SPS stands for!

Q. How do you achieve that?

Chairman: We achieve it through holistic education imparted for the growth of mind, body and soul by extremely dedicated mentors chosen from different fields of excellence.

Q. Do you mean more IITians, Doctors and Civil Servants who bring glory to the school in different fields?

Chairman: Of course, we want them to be good IITians, Doctors, Civil Servants etc. with human touch and compassion. We aim at producing good human beings with leadership qualities and excellent communication skills.

Q. Where do you see SPSI in 2025?

Chairman: We should not stop at personal success. Education should nurture the skills of young minds and make them shine. SPS is by the children, of the children and for the children. I want my children to scintillate in each and every field.

Some Wonderful News Parent Teacher Conferences

As a parent, you are your child's first and the most important teacher.

You and your SPSI have something in common. We both want our child to fly high and touch the sky. When parents and teachers talk to each other, each person can share important information about the child's talents and emotional needs.

Teachers and Parents are like two shores of a vast 'ocean of energy' i.e. our children. Both the shores have to keep a vigil on children's activities and ward off any untoward happenings.

Please attend Parent Teacher Meet, so that everyone wins, especially our child.

SEMINARS AND WORKSHOPS

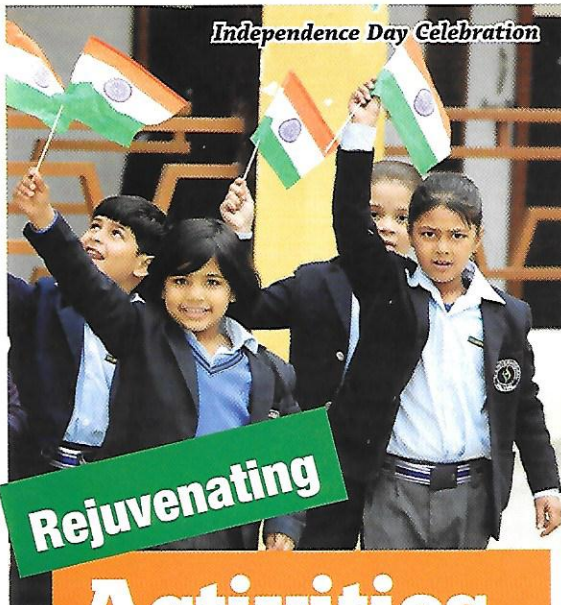

Intermittent seminars and workshops are organized for constant grooming of our well qualified and skilled teachers. We are committed to counsel our teachers and students at the same platform.

“JUNK THE JUNK FOOD”

In today's scenario, junk food needs no introduction. Everyone in this age of convenience is savouring the taste of junk food because they are popular, delicious, affordable and readily available.

But junk food's addiction can lead to loss of tolerance, memory and acute depression.

An awareness program was organised in the school campus to aware the students about this monstrous deadly demon. The program ended with a motivational speech by the Principal which instilled in the students a determination to quit this vicious habit.
